Numb. 2755

The Daily Courant.

Monday, October 26, 1713.

London, October 26.

On Saturday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Oct. 31.

From the Camp before Barcelona, Sept. 27.

TIS not yet known when we shall undertake the Siege of this Place: In all Appearance it will be thought sufficient only to bombard it and to keep it blocked up all the Winter.

The Catalonians sent a Detachment some Days ago to the Cloyster of the Carthusians, with Design to fetch off the Corn laid up there and bring it into the Town: But the French Troops which are encamped on that Side, having Notice of their March, advanced against them so suddenly, that they immediately put them into Disorder and obliged them to retire into the Town, without the Corn, which was afterwards carried off by our Men. General Nebot continues in the Conca de Trems: Precautions are taken to cut him off from all Communication with Barcelona, that he may not get into it with his Troops.

From the Hague Courant, dated Oct. 30.

Madrid, Oct. 16. The Lord Lexington's only Son is dead here, in the 14th Year of his Age. His Body is to be sent to Bilbao, thence to be carried to England. His Excellency is almost inconsolable for this Loss, and is retired to a lonely House remote from the Court; to which he must return however, if he receive Order from England to continue to act here. An Express is come from our Plenipotentiaries at Utrecht, with Dispatches relating to the Affairs of the Princess Ursini; and this Express is sent back again, but yet there is nothing said at Court how the Peace with the States General goes on. The Free-Gifts for carrying on the War in Catalonia are collected throughout the Kingdom with Success, and the Ecclesiasticks begin likewise to show Marks of their good Will. Among the Persons of Quality at Velez and Malaga who have distinguished themselves on this Occasion, are Don Carlos Caraffa Governour of the Coast, and the Duke de Veraguas, who have sent in their Plate to the Mint, and ordered the Money coined of it to be presented to the King; but 'tis thought the said Duke has his private Interest in view in doing this, as having Pretensions to the Office of Master of the Ordnance of Spain, which will soon be vacant, the Marquis de Canales being Sick past all Hopes of Recovery. Two thousand Doubloons which have been collected at Cadix for the Free-Gift, are directed by his Majesty to be employed towards the Charge of fitting out the Ships which are to go into the Mediterranean to serve in the Siege of Barcelona. Order has been sent to the Troops which were on the March from Estremadura to Catalonia, to halt, not only because 'tis judged so long a March at this Season of the Year will be too toilsom, but because 'tis reckoned that Detachment will not be necessary for the Reduction of Barcelona, seeing the Duke de Popoli will shortly be reinforced by the Walloon and Spanish Troops which the Baron de Capres by Order from the King is leading from Flanders, and which are to take their March through Roussillon.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 31, &c.

Basil, Oct. 21. Letters from Hunninghen and Brisac relate, that the old experienced French Officers all agree they never knew any Place so well defended as Fribourg is. The Besiegers had attacked a Half-Moon, and the Covered-Way at once with a more than ordinary Number of Men, yet were obliged to reinforce them with fresh Troops; after a hard Fight the French possessed themselves of the Half-Moon; but could not take the Counterscarp, yet lodged themselves on the Glacis of it. This Action cost them 2 or 3000 Men. Of 40 Captains of their Grenadiers 30 were killed. The Besieged must needs have lost a great many Men likewise, for of the 300 who were in the Half-Moon, almost all perished. The Prisoners taken from the Besieged report, that the Governour is extremely beloved by his Garrison, and had engaged his Word that whatever Officer should fall, were it the Colonel himself, his Room should be supplied by the next in Rank in the same Regiment, so that every Man might rise by a regular Succession. Whereupon they had all promised to stand by him to the last, and to abide a general Storm.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 31.

From General Vaubonne's Camp near Rotweil, Oct. 22. The 17th Instant, before Prince Eugene's Departure back to Muhlberg, a Corporal came out of Fribourg, passed through the Enemy's Camp before that Place, and brought his Highness Letters from General Harfch who commands in it; in which he writes, that when the Enemy shall have possessed themselves of the Town of Fribourg, he doubted not to be able to defend the two Castles two Months longer, and that he was well provided with all things. His Highness gave so Louis d'Or to the Corporal, and a Standard in his own Regiment of Dragoons, for venturing his Life to do this Service. We learn since, that the Enemy cannot carry on their Approaches to Fribourg without very great Difficulty, because of the Stony Ground; and that being almost exposed in the Trenches, the Officers are obliged to force the Soldiers Sword in Hand to do Duty.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Oct. 21.

Villingen, Oct. 22. The Enemy give out, that when they have made themselves Masters of the Town of Fribourg, if the Besieged will not surrender the two Castles at the same time, they will leave Troops to block them up, and will march with their Army to possess themselves of Villingen and Rhinsfeld, in order to extend themselves and make Incursions into Germany.

Frankfort, Oct. 26. Letters that came in to Day from the Camp at Muhlberg advise, that the Marshal de Bezons who had advanced with his Army up to Strasbourg, is gone back into his Lines at Lauterbourg. Prince Eugene had sent another Detachment from his Army, to reinforce General Vaubonne near Rotweil. Letters from the Brigau of the 22d say the Bavarian Troops and some French Regiments had passed the Rhine, and were encamped near Schwetzingen.

Berlin, Oct. 27. In Execution of the Treaty of Sequestration, the Muscovites began to march out of Pomerania 4 Days ago to return through Poland to their own Country; and the Saxons to the Number of 8 Regiments of Horse and 8 or 9 Battalions of Foot, will likewise put themselves on the March forthwith for Poland. 'Tis said the King of Denmark is not over-pleased with this Agreement made without his Participation, and especially with respect to Wismar; but this will not hinder the Sequestration of that Place, provided the Swedes will do as they have promised; and we hear the Governour of Wismar is actually preparing to receive a Garrison there, one half Prussians the other Holsteimers. The King is at Potsdam, him, whether the Prince of Anhalt-Deffau want to him to Day.

From the Leid. and Amst. Gaz. dated Oct. 31.

Dunkirk, Oct. 23. Some of our Outworks are already demolished; there are also two Mines in a Readiness to be sprung, for blowing up the Rif-bank-Fort: But the Fortifications of the Body of the Place, and of the Citadel, are not yet touch- ed; and 'tis reckoned it will take up two Months longer to make a thorough Demolition. We are in Hopes our Harbour will be preserved by the Wooden Works that run out so far into the Sea be- ing left standing, the rather because the King of France's Ships of War which lye in the Basin have not yet received Order to be gone. A Ship of Rotterdam was driven upon the Sands between Ostend and Newport the 15th Instant, by a violent Storm of Wind which blew that Day; the Master and Crew were lost, a very few excepted who got ashore: The Ship was afterwards heaved off and set afloat by the Tide, which with the Wind cast her ashore near Calais, where 'twas hoped part of her Lading would be saved.
